HOMES PLAN THROWN OUT

Bid for 50 village houses refused

DEVELOPERS with plans to build in Feniton were dealt a blow at East Devon District Council's (EDDC) Development Management Committee (DMC) meeting last Tuesday, February 7th.

DMC councillors voted unanimously to reject the latest application by Wainhomes for 50 homes on land near Louvigny Close.

After more than 300 objections, EDDC councillors told those at the meeting that it was time to send a "strong message" to developers that Feniton residents do not want a development on this scale.

During the meeting several residents spoke passionately about their reasons to reject future development in the village and councillor Vivien Duval-Steer commented: "It is nice to see some younger people here at the meeting, supporting their village."

"Developers need to be sent a message that residents do not want a development in this scale."

The committee members also expressed their concerns about flooding issues.

The application, submitted by Mr S Cater, for permission to build 50 dwellings and associated features had been recommended for refusal before the meeting.

Opposition to both the Wainhomes proposal and a previous application by Strategic Land Partnership for 150 homes on land off Ottery Road has been rife and a number of residents set up a group named Fight For Feniton's Future.

Feniton Parish Council objected to the proposal by saying: "Feniton has (historic) concerns over both sewage capacity and, more importantly, drainage."

"The continual additional building in Feniton has over the recent years made the situation worse; any additional building is totally unacceptable until both of these are sorted."

"The site is one of two main areas where water has run off and washed mud through the village causing flooding."

The chairman of Fight For Feniton's Future, Dr John Withrington, told Pulman's View he was delighted the councillors had unanimously voted against the application by Wainhomes.

He said: "I am thrilled that the DMC saw fit to reject the application and to listen to what the majority of the village wants."

"It is a great result that the councillors understand the plight of the village and are sympathetic to our apparent attack from developers."

"The action group hopes this sends a clear message to those with ideas of building in the village that the residents will not accept it."

MP Neil Parish also told Pulman's View he was delighted with the outcome of the meeting.

Before the committee meeting on Tuesday he wrote to Kate Little, head of planning at EDDC, urging that the development be refused. Mr Parish said: "I have written to the head of planning at East Devon District Council on several occasions regarding development in Feniton, most recently on the February 2nd, because I object to any further development while there is no solution to the flooding problems in the village."

"More houses will create more run-off from both roofs and driveways and it will mean potentially more chance of flash floods in the village."

"Furthermore, the access to this development is from a very narrow lane which is extremely close to Feniton School."

"The land on which the houses were to be built is outside of the Parish boundary and is also Grade Two agricultural land which should be taken into consideration as we do need good quality land for food production. I urge the planning authority to refuse this application."

After Pulman's View informed him of the decision to refuse the plans Mr Parish said: "This is excellent news."

A new chair

SENIOR Council for Honiton has a new chairman in Vic Bowsher and a new secretary in Carol Smythe.

In addition, there are two new committee members in June Mumford and June Brown.

Retiring secretary Tony Simpson commented: "These are all first class people and we are very fortunate they have come forward."

"There was never any doubt we would continue after a superb turnout for our New Year meeting. The changeover of officers has been painless and seamless and very positive. We are fortunate to have an excellent team of highly regarded seniors to take us forward along with a strong membership base."

"I am confident our voice will go from strength to strength on issues that concern our members and the Honiton area."

"We are now exploring links with Ottery Later Life Forum, NPC and DPAF."

Pair attacked

TWO women were attacked and injured in High Street, Honiton, in the early hours of Sunday, February 12th.

One woman suffered a split lip and tooth after being punched, and the other suffered bleeding and swelling to the face after being kicked, according to police.

It is alleged they were were assaulted just after 2am by a man and a woman who are known to them as acquaintances following an argument. Enquiries are ongoing and there have been no arrests.

Celebration of 150th birthday for St Mary's

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster church's 150th birthday will be celebrated in style.

St Mary's RC Church will celebrate the birthday over three days — from Saturday, June 16th to Monday, June 18th — together with St Mary's Primary School, which shares a similar history with the church.

A church spokesperson said: "During the celebrations, the church and school hall will house various displays outlining their history and sharing floral, artistic and musical events."

Organisers would love to hear from anyone who is willing to lend photographs and other memorabilia for the displays.

The spokesperson said: "All contributions will be very much appreciated. More details will be published later and everyone is welcome to join us anytime during that weekend."

Those with memorabilia can call Father Michael Koppel on 01297 32135 or Mark Brown (headteacher) on 01297 32785.

Summarising the church's history, the spokesperson said: "On Sunday May 29th 1862, The Feast of the Ascension, St Mary's RC Church, Axminster, was officially opened and held its first mass. The church replaced a previous chapel which opened on the August 15th 1831. This chapel measured 47 feet in length, 28 feet in width and 22 feet in height."

"After the Emancipation Act of 1829, the hierarchy was restored in 1850, by which time the tiny chapel could not accommodate all those who wished to worship there. So in 1854, William Wardell, the renowned designer of Victorian churches, was commissioned to design a new church.

"When plans for the new church were drawn up, it was decided that it should be built of local stone and in the gothic style. Land was also provided for a presbytery, a priest's garden and a school. "The cost was estimated to be £3,000."

Christian's navy bid

A 24-YEAR-OLD who hails from Hemyock has embarked on the Initial Warfare Officer (Foundation) course at Britannia Royal Naval College (BRNC) in Dartmouth.

Sub Lieutenant Christian Lowe started the course after passing the initial phase of officer training in a bid to become a warfare officer in the Royal Navy.

The initial phase of training culminated in December last year when the passing-out parade salute was taken by Admiral Sir Mark Stanhope, The First Sea Lord.

Christian joined the Royal Navy in May last year, following in the footsteps of his serving father Commodore Tim Lowe.

The current course sets numerous challenges and there is significant emphasis on developing leadership skills throughout the training in addition to academic work.

Ten weeks have been spent at sea in the amphibious assault ship, HMS Albion, which was operating predominately in UK waters.

Commenting on the first phase of training, Christian said: "Although the training has been really challenging I have thoroughly enjoyed it and look forward to joining the fleet soon."

Farriers' charity trip to Egypt to aid hoofs

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A HAWKCHURCH farrier and his two apprentices are preparing for a trip to troubled Egypt, where they will work on neglected horses and pass on their skills to locals as well.

Kris Parsons and his two apprentices — Alex Eltringham and Roland Thompson — will set off on March 24th and stay for a week.

Kris, Alex and Roland will be in Egypt for a week as part of Cairo Farrier, a non-profit organisation providing "global hoof care solutions".

The recent turmoil in Egypt sparked the forthcoming trip.

A Cairo Farrier spokesperson explained: "The number of tourists visiting the pyramids dropped dramatically and the horses that the tourists used to pay to ride and view the pyramids from experienced a huge loss of custom."

"Several hundred of these horses were already in very poor condition and now, with no tourists, they are in a terrible state and with no money coming in there is very little food for them either."

When asked if he has had second thoughts about going, especially after the recent killings after a football match, Kris said: "Not really. We are not going to get involved in demonstrations or anything."

He is hopeful that his experience in training apprentices and working with a wide range of horses will help to make a lasting difference.

Fundraising efforts to pay for the trip are in full swing, and the spokesperson said: "Some of the top trainers and riders in the UK have been incredibly generous and donated a lesson for us to auction off and raise much needed funds with."

Pulman's View can reveal that one of them is Mary King.

Auction details and comprehensive information about the project are available on Facebook at www.facebook.com/cairofarrier.

Schools struggling with cost of meals

A HEADTEACHER has reiterated that the aim is to reinstate hot meals at two schools in Pulman's County.

Some parents reacted angrily when Mrs Ethelston's School in Uplyme and St Andrew's in Chardstock scrapped the meals because Devon County Council's (DCC) new contractor proved too expensive.

One of them, Dulcie Wareham, wrote directly to headteacher Andrea Rice, saying: "This situation has been presented as a done deal without consultation."

"It is unfair that those entitled to free meals can still have them whilst those of us willing to pay are refused."

"Why can't parents be given the opportunity to pay an increased fee."

"The current situation is unsatisfactory and no immediate remedy appears to be available."

"I hope meals are quickly reinstated but cannot help questioning whether the school will agree to financially support any future service from a new provider to make it affordable to families on a daily basis."

The two schools form The Acorn Federation and governors have said: "We are continuing to investigate ways of providing hot meals at both schools."

In her reply to Dulcie, headteacher Rice emphasised this, saying: "As explained in previous correspondence, we do hope that this is a temporary interruption to the service, and that we will be able to find another provider in the future."

"We are continuing to investigate ways of providing hot meals at both schools."

"Parents were consulted last March about school dinners, and only 26 indicated that they would pay £2.50 or more for a school meal."

"The drop in numbers caused by such a large price rise would mean that the real price would be more in the order of £5 per meal to cover all the overheads."

Dulcie commented: "The good news is the school is actively looking for a new provider for meals."

"I am unaware how the school's budget works but am shocked that DCC has simply 'handed over' the catering contract to Devon Norse at a cost totally unacceptable to our school resulting in no hot food being available at all for our children."

*Volunteers have stepped in to provide hot meals at Membury

Primary School.

Jakki Henderson is one of them, and she explained: "Last year we were also faced with this dilemma — school meals becoming too costly and a real need to cut costs."

"So when the dinners were scrapped early part of 2011, our chairman of school governors — Marilyn Burrough — along with other parent helpers started cooking for the children instead."

"From the kitchens of our well equipped village hall (situated beside the school) hot, home-made dinners are served to our children, including home-baked desserts."

"Ingredients are sourced locally wherever possible, and everything is freshly prepared and cooked each day for just £2 per child."

The volunteers' initiative is a temporary one until another solution is found.

■ Feniton Primary School has also taken steps to consult with parents over a possible change to its hot school meals. Every parent of the school was sent home with a questionnaire before the half term break about their child's school meal habits.

Parents have raised concerns with Pulman's View that they would be very unhappy to see the school scrap hot meals.

Cubs go behind scenes of service

MEMBERS of Ottery St Mary Cubs have had a look behind the scenes at Devon Air Ambulance Trust's helicopter base at Middlemoor, Exeter.

During a recent visit, members were guided by paramedic Nigel Hare, who explained the benefits of the helicopter and demonstrated the medical equipment onboard.

Nigel answered the many questions asked by the inquisitive cubs.

The highlight of the visit was the chance to climb inside the aircraft.

One cub was even strapped into the stretcher to see what it would be like being transported.

Cub leader Catrina Johnson commented: "All the cubs were very excited to visit the air ambulance."

"Nigel never stopped answering questions all night from the young people. The team made us all feel very welcome."

For one of the visiting cubs, Aiden Percy, it was a doubly special day as he was also celebrating his 10th birthday.

At the end of the visit the Cubs presented a cheque for £200 as a donation from the proceeds of the Ottery Scout Group jumble sale to fundraising director Caroline Creer, who said: "We were delighted to welcome these youngsters to the airbase and to show them our helicopter and tell them a little about the work we do."

"We are grateful that they have been involved in fundraising for the trust and they were all clearly very interested in their visit."

If you are a young person wishing to join the cubs or an adult who might consider volunteering, visit www.otteryscouts.org.uk for more information.

Hugh's HQ suffers blaze

THE events barn at River Cottage HQ was seriously damaged by fire on Tuesday, February 7th.

Firefighters were called to Park Farm, at Musbury at around 10.13pm.

Upon arrival, fire crews requested a further three fire appliances from Seaton, Lyme Regis and Honiton; a compressed air foam systems appliance from Chard in Somerset; together with the incident support unit and a supporting appliance from Exmouth and the water bowser from Danes Castle, Exeter.

A River Cottage statement said: "A fire severely damaged the main barn at Park Farm, River Cottage HQ late last Tuesday. Thankfully no people, or animals were hurt. The cause is as yet unknown. The River Cottage team are shocked and upset, and are dealing with the damage today. We would like to say a big thank you to the Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service, who were on the scene quickly and worked hard to contain the fire."

Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall said: "I'm so shocked to hear the news of the fire in our barn at Park Farm. I'm filming a long way away right now and it's just impossible to imagine."

"Obviously it's a huge relief that nobody's been hurt, and I'm very grateful to the local fire service for all their help."

"I understand there's already a plan underway to set up a working field kitchen so we can continue to host our events, teach our courses and look after our guests in the coming months."

I've no doubt the whole River Cottage team will be pulling together to make this happen. And in due course we'll set about restoring our lovely Devon barn to its former glory."

Primary school is celebrating 'Good' grade from Ofsted

SHUTE Community Primary School is celebrating after its overall effectiveness was judged Good by Ofsted.

Good is the second best grade available and headteacher Amanda Graham said: "We pride ourselves on nurturing happy, thoughtful and confident children and it is a great joy when, alongside this, we generate fantastic results too."

"I am immensely proud of our children and staff. Our school's future has never looked brighter."

The inspection took place over two days - January 17th and 18th - and, in a letter to pupils, lead inspector Paul Sadler wrote: "You make good progress and when you leave at the end of Year 6 your attainment in English and mathematics is above average."

"Teaching is good because teachers give you work that is right for your age. Your behaviour is outstanding and you and your parents and carers told me there was no bullying."

"The headteacher and the governing body know the school's strengths and weaknesses and have improved things that were less than good."

"For example, pupils in Years 1 and 2 are now making better progress in their work."

"To make sure the school gets even better, I have asked the staff to; help you to improve your handwriting and the presentation of your work; make sure that time is not wasted in lessons and that you have lots of opportunities to read, write and use your knowledge of mathematics."

"You can help by always taking care with your written work and telling the teacher when you have finished a task."

The Ofsted verdict came after Shute was rated second in the county for the percentage of Year 6 pupils attaining and exceeding the expected level (level 4) in English and Maths.

Garden duo to tell tale

MUSBURY Garden Club will welcome Chris and Judy Yates as guest speakers on Monday February 20th.

They will tell the story of how they turned their walled garden from a neglected wilderness to a thing of beauty.

Club member Jane Bishop said: "Around the time that Heligan in Cornwall was being re-discovered, the Yates were transforming their old Victorian estate kitchen-garden in Dorset which had lain abandoned and unloved for 15 years."

"They created a new scented garden, which was opened to visitors."

The meeting starts at 7.30pm in the committee room in Musbury Village Hall.

Refreshments and a raffle will be on offer. Musbury Garden Club members pay £1.50 and non-members £2.50.

Homework kids' club

A CREATIVE space and homework club will come to Millwey Rise, Axminster once a week.

The club will be based at Millwey Community Centre from 4pm-6pm on Tuesdays and will cater for those aged seven to 11 years free of charge.

Those aged 16 or over are welcome to volunteer their services and help run the club.

More information is available from community development worker Victoria Robinson on 01395 516551 (ext. 2372) or vrobinson@eastdevon.gov.uk.

ALWAYS HERE TO HELP

Lifeline for town's young 'sofa-surfers'

A DROP-IN advice clinic for young people says "sofa surfing" is a common occurrence in Axminster.

The new, weekly drop-in service at Long Ragg Court in Lyme Road, offers advice on housing, employment, education, debt and financial planning to young people.

It is run by Independent Futures, part of Devon and Cornwall Housing group.

While a new and fledgling set-up, its early findings are that many young people are struggling to find a permanent place of their own.

Around 15 young people have visited the service, many of them to seek advice on how to break the cycle of staying on friends' and relatives' sofas.

Chris O'Neill, an Independent Futures support worker at Long Ragg Court, said: "The drop-in clinic is helping identify local young people who are sofa-surfing."

"We have already provided housing advice to several young people to help them gain more secure accommodation arrangements.

"Without stable accommodation, it is even more difficult for young people to access training and employment and play a meaningful role in society."

The new drop-in service is available for 16 to 24-year-olds. It runs weekly on Fridays from 1.30pm-4.30pm in the communal room.

Chris added: "We are here to listen, help and support young people. We do not judge and personal issues are treated in confidence."

The following partner agencies will be joining Chris to offer advice and support this month:

February 17th — East Devon District Council offering housing advice.

February 24th — Young Devon offering advice and support on general issues affecting young people.

Other agencies taking part in coming weeks include Axminster Alternative Job Club, the Citizens' Advice Bureau, Smartmove and East Devon Volunteer Centre.

Sixth-form students on museum trip

STUDENTS from The Woodroffe School's Sixth Form travelled to London to see a Power of Making exhibition at the Victoria and Albert Museum.

The exhibition celebrated the role of making things in people's lives and featured an eclectic selection of over 100 objects ranging from a life-size crochet bear to a ceramic eye patch as well as a metal flute and dry stone walling.

Presenting students with a selection of original works by amateurs and professionals from around the world provided a snapshot of making in our time and provided stimuli for those studying art, art history, graphics and photography.

After visiting the museum in the morning, students went on to see a Gerhard Richter retrospective at the Tate Modern that provided a panoramic spanning five decades of the artist's work.

As well as observing the array of Richter pieces that ranged from gestural abstractions such as his squeegee paintings to landscapes and history paintings, they also saw contemporary art at the Saatchi Gallery.

Richard Vine, head of art at Lyme Regis, said: "It's important for students to view original artworks."

"The visit was designed to allow students access to work that directly relates to their studies and to help them make informed judgments about art and design in front of original pieces of work."

College hosts political speed dating contest

THE district councillor for Feniton Ward, Graham Brown, was the joint winner of a political speed dating session at Sidmouth College on Wednesday, February 8th.

Ten members of East Devon District Council (EDDC) travelled to the college and given a table each.

Students then moved from table to table, spending three minutes with each councillor.

The councillors' task was to find out what was important to the students and take questions.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "Some very searching topics were addressed and reflected the students' social awareness beyond their own home turf.

"Questions ranged from local issues such as bus services, child maintenance and improving youth services through to more national issues such as the riots last summer, university fees, and Fred Goodwin being stripped of his knighthood.

"The voting, which was just for fun, this year resulted in joint winners — councillor Graham Brown (defending his 2011 victory) and newcomer Councillor Martin Gammell (Whimple Ward).

"In accepting their crown and garland as worthy winners, they thanked the students for their interest, awareness and searching questions.

"All councillors said that it had been a privilege to be involved and feedback from students was equally positive.

Councillors included Tom Wright, Christine Drew, Graham Brown, Claire Wright, Peter Sullivan, Peter Halse and Martin Gammell.

Cheryl will run race for deafblind charity

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

A MAIDEN Marathon is on the cards for former Pulman's employee Cheryl Dinneen (nee Tregale).

She'll be on the starting line for this year's London Marathon on Sunday, April 22nd and hopes to spend no more than four and a half hours pounding the streets of the capital.

Apart from a finishing time target, there is also a fundraising target.

Cheryl explained: "I am running the London Marathon for a charity called Sense, the leading national charity that supports and campaigns for children and adults who are deafblind.

"They provide a lifeline to deafblind people and their families and carers.

"They enjoy a worldwide reputation for their pioneering work with children, advising parents about the best ways to help their child learn, develop and communicate.

"I chose this charity because of the inspiring work that they do with deafblind children and, having read an article about the work that they did with one particular child, I knew I had to run the marathon for them to try and make a difference.

"I have a fundraising target of £1,500 but would very much like to raise more than this as it is for such an amazing cause."

Despite not having a full marathon under her belt, she is hardly a novice.

She has done half-marathons in the past and is confident she will last the full distance.

Cheryl said: "My next one [half-marathon] is the first weekend in March, which I am very much looking forward to as strange as that sounds.

"I am running the London Marathon with one of my best friends; when she entered it gave me the courage I needed to take the brave step and commit to the race.

"On my registration form I said that I was aiming to complete the marathon in four hours and 30 minutes, but the nearer I can get to the four hour mark, the more pleased with my time I will be."

Talking is one thing, delivering could be something different altogether. Whilst there are no guarantees, she is certainly taking preparation seriously.

Sundays, for example, are most definitely not days of rest for the 27-year-old, who said: "Training for a marathon is very tough as you have to be extremely dedicated as it is very time-consuming and demanding.

"Currently I am running four or five times a week, with my longest run being 15 miles, which I tend to save for a nice Sunday morning.

"The other runs all vary in distance

♦ FORMER Pulman's girl Cheryl Dinneen is preparing to run the London Marathon for charity Sense, the leading national charity that supports and campaigns for children and adults who are deafblind but are usually designed to increase pace or stamina, for example hill training."

She finished: "People can sponsor me through my JustGiving page at http://www.justgiving.com/Cheryl- Dinneen — every penny of which is greatly received and will make my target ever so much more achievable."

Search for 'green' farm

THE RSPB has launched its annual search to find the farmer who does the most for nature.

The Nature of Farming Award aims to find the farmer who has put in the most work on their land to help wildlife in the countryside.

Entries are accepted until April 20th.

Tony Whitehead, spokesman for the RSPB in the South West, said: "This region is rich in wildlife, much of this benefiting from the hard work of farmers with the support from agri-environment schemes.

"In the past few years we've had a number of West Country farmers in the finals and would love this to continue.

"It's a great opportunity for farmers across the region to showcase what they are doing every day on their farms to look after the fantastic wildlife of our countryside."

Entry details can be found on the RSPB website at www.rspb.org.uk/natureoffarming.

A twelve-day transformation for village pub

NEW Tytherleigh Arms owners Mark Starling and Rosie Goyder threw a party to celebrate the pub's reopening and to thank locals for the warm welcome they have received.

The purchase was completed in December last year, and both look forward to the challenge ahead.

Before coming to Tytherleigh, Mark was the manager of the Circus restaurant in Bath and Rosie was the general manager of Marlborough Tavern, also in Bath.

The party was held on Thursday, February 9th, and Mark said: "From first viewing, we knew this was just what we wanted.

"We couldn't wait to get stuck in to give it a new lease of life."

Plenty of guests turned up to wish the owners well and to sample some of what the kitchen has to offer, thanks to head chef Ed Chester who has joined the Tytherleigh Arms from the Otterton Mill.

During the evening Rosie told Pulman's View that it had taken them, and an army of loyal friends, family and staff, just 12 days to complete the pub's transformation.

She said: "We have been so lucky to have so many people help us. All in all we were only closed for 12 days and in that time the restaurant has taken on a whole new look.

"We just wanted to say thanks and show off our hard work tonight."

Andrew in top orchestra

A YEAR 11 student from Woodroffe School, Lyme Regis, has secured a place in the prestigious National Youth Orchestra (NYO) alongside 10 other French Horn players.

Andrew Humphreys, 15, qualified for his position following a series of auditions last year.

The first audition in Bristol saw Andrew playing and sight reading in front of an NYO representative.

The second audition, which Andrew claimed was "far more intimidating", involved performing for a panel including the head of the NYO, the head tutor of the NYO's horn section and the professor of horns at the Royal Academy.

After securing his place Andrew was then subject to a demanding rehearsal schedule that involved days with 10 hours of rehearsals.

On joining the orchestra Andrew said: "It's amazing. I would honestly recommend this to anyone. I love the sense of community and the fantastically high standard of musicianship."

Students vote on how cash is spent

PUPILS from Honiton Primary School have voted on how they want funds to be spent following a visit from Councillor David Foster and East Devon District Council's (EDDC) community engagement and funding officer, Jamie Buckley.

Designs for four multi-use pieces of play equipment suitable for children under seven were shown to 113 reception and Year One pupils who then voted for their favourite.

The winning design gained 46 per cent of the vote with its combination of a slide, step bridge and tunnel. The equipment will be placed in Allhallows Play Area.

An EDDC spokesman said: "EDDC has more than doubled the money available by providing £7,500 from its StreetScene budget to make sure the children will get a fantastic piece of equipment."

Consulting children and parents on how the money should be spent is EDDC's policy when allocating Section 106 money, which has contributed £5,000 to the project along with £700 donated by Honiton Town Council.

Mr Foster said: "I would like to thank both staff and children for their enthusiasm."

"I hope the children get enjoyment, not just from playing on the new equipment, but also a sense of excitement that comes from seeing their selected piece of equipment in situ and the sense of pride I hope this brings with it."

■ Section 106 allows district councils and developers to make planning agreements whereby developers will contribute funds to community projects in order to offset the negative impacts of developments.

Dads prepare the breakfast

A FUNDRAISER for Mrs Ethelston's Primary School in Uplyme topped the £1,000 mark.

Breakfast in a Bap in the village hall on Saturday, January 28th saw dads of children at the school run the kitchen.

One of the organisers, Lucy Brazier, said: "We raised £1,052 after expenses, which we are thrilled about. All the dads did a brilliant job in the kitchen."

Village backs gym

NEARLY 180 Beer residents voted on how they would like £7,500 to be spent on outdoor facilities in the village, with 43 per cent choosing a free-to-use, all-ages outdoor gym.

Last summer residents of Beer were asked what they wanted to do with the money and three affordable proposals were provided by individuals and community groups.

These proposals were then presented in the parish newsletter and at the Beer Christmas shopping event.

After voting, it was the outdoor gym that proved to be the most popular, while a climbing wall came in a close second with 41 per cent of the vote.

The results of the vote will be presented to Beer Parish Council (BPC) at its next full meeting and the money will not be formally offered until the proposal is discussed and ratified by the council.

As well as this, BPC members also have their eyes on the long-term and residents also voted on possible future projects. The most popular proposal was an all-purpose sports court that would cost around £50,000. It won 65 per cent of the vote.

Jointly run by BPC and East Devon District Council (EDDC), the money for the project was made available through Section 106 agreements, also known as planning obligations, between developers of a number of housing projects in Beer and EDDC.

Section 106 allows developers to offset the negative aspects of their developments by contributing money to projects that will benefit the community. The money is collected from developers and distributed by EDDC.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THE Bishop of Exeter has written on the following: "One of the frustrating facts about the Church of England is that although, taken as a whole, we are a large organisation with substantial buying power, our actual expenditure is spread widely through thousands of parochial church councils and 44 Diocesan Boards of Finance."

"In an attempt to save money through bulk buying, the national church has negotiated special agreements with a number of national suppliers."

If you want to learn more and register you can visit the website www.parishbuying.org.uk. His own office will be registering and exploring the savings which could be made in stationery and other purchases

The season of Lent will soon be upon us and observed by the churches. Christian Aid Seaton and District will be holding its coffee mornings at the U R C Hall in Cross St, Seaton, at 10am on Fridays from February 24th and all five Fridays in Lent.

The Church of the Holy Family, Honiton, has announced a pilgrimage in June to Assisi and Roccaporena, details from 01404 42635.

The Honiton Mission Community is looking forward to the arrival of the Revd Jane Lankester, who will reside at Awliscombe Vicarage, after her licensing at Honiton on February 16th.

The next day is the licensing of the Revd Rick Peckham from Sidmouth as the new Rector of the Dunkswell Mission Community.

A special prayer written at the Queen's direction by the Chapter of St Paul's Cathedral was released last week to co-incide with the start date of her reign.

This prayer and others will be available on line at www.diamondjubilee.churchofengland.org.

The General Synod of the Church of England met last week and had before it legislation relating to the introduction of women bishops.

The final vote will be taken at the General Synod in York in July. It has also been reported that now more women are joining the Anglican priesthood than men.

The figures show that many of the women are self supporting rather than in full stipendiary posts.

A change of Rural Dean in Honiton Deanery has been announced.

The Revd Alastair McCollum of the Five Alive Mission Community will be commissioned by the Bishop of Crediton on Sunday, March 11th at 6pm in Shute Church as the Rural Dean, in the Taize Service which has already been announced for that date — all are welcome.

Tales of the days of steam majesty

THORNCOMBE Rail Activities Club held its annual meeting in the village hall on January 18th.

There was rather more to discuss this year following the death of the chairman, Michael Sheasby.

Michael had worked hard organising speakers and many other aspects of the club, and his duties have now been split among more people.

Richard Holt moved from treasurer to chairman, Chas May took up the new post of vice-chairman and Graham Bean becomes treasurer.

Kelvin Lee joins the committee as events secretary. Roger Finch also now joins Bob Cox, Laurie Uncles, Jon Clarke-Irons and Richard Hood on the committee.

Nick Thompson will continue to run the club's website.

Having dispatched business, members were treated to a fascinating talk from Kingsley Gardiner, one of the club's members, who lives in Lyme Regis.

Kingsley was a driver on British Railways North East Region, based at Charing Cross.

He described his start on the job as a cleaner, moving up through labourer, fireman and driver, and eventually locomotive supervisor at King's Cross.

Along the way, he experienced many unusual and occasionally alarming events such as the train that had to take three attempts to get into the York Road platform at King's Cross, and where the passengers got fed up with the delay and climbed onto the track to get away from the train and about their business.

He also told of the horror of taking a crack express out of the London terminus (first stop Doncaster) only to find after they had left the station that they didn't have a shovel in the cab.

His job brought many unexpected incidents. On the way to work on his bike one day, a road junction jammed up because the policeman who normally directed traffic was administering first aid to a builder who had fallen off some scaffolding.

Kingsley started directing the traffic to get it moving, with such success that the policeman nipped over and placed his helmet on Kingsley's head.

Then there was the "drunk" who was about to be ejected from Liverpool Street Station for causing a nuisance.

Kingsley, skilled in first aid himself, recognised a diabetic, took him to the café, restored him to a respectable citizen again and sent him home.

Kingsley also related how the non-stop service was arranged from London to Edinburgh, with two crews that changed over halfway.

This was effected using a tiny corridor through the tender. The off-duty men took their ease in the Pullman passenger coaches, dining and relaxing. How dignified.

It was delightful to hear so many inside stories that the general travelling public and the trackside enthusiast don't normally hear. The club hopes to have Kingsley back again for more reminiscences.

This month's talk from Peter Triggs is entitled Railways in Central England.

This will be tomorrow (Wednesday, February 15th) at 7.30 in the village hall at Thorncombe.

Successful but late Xmas lunch for seniors

YARCOMBE Community Lunch organisers were grateful to those organising a late Senior Citizens' Christmas Lunch for the gift of a turkey, to which they added bacon to provide a turkey bake for the meal in January.

This is the first time that a meal has been served in January and a tester for the future, and it was good to welcome so many during a miserable, grey winter's day.

The Rev Kate Woolven welcomed everyone and said grace. Chocolate sponge with chocolate sauce made up the sweet course.

After such indulgence Maggie Lane produced Maggie's Mix for the entertainment.

Maggie's Men, with various choir members and others, sang a medley of old favourite songs before inviting the audience to request their own choices from the song sheets provided.

Everybody joined in with gusto and could have sung all afternoon.

The choir finished up by singing Green Grow The Rushes O with placards which got faster and faster as it went along

Thank you to Maggie and her assistant Anne, who searched for the music, for a great afternoon.

The next meal will be tomorrow (Wednesday, February 15th) when Delphine Evans, returning to her home base, will be talking about her work with children and her newspaper column.

The history group that doesn't miss a beat

AXMINSTER Historical Society enjoyed an interesting talk Policing the Peninsula.

This gave everyone an educational and humorous insight into the history of policing in Devon and Cornwall. After some 30 years in the police force and now a Crimebeat co-ordinator, Simon Dell included some of his own experiences in the presentation and brought along some interesting memorabilia and old photographs.

During the tea break Simon answered many questions and sold a few of the 11 books he has written on policing.

PULMAN'S VIEW LETTERS

Driving test for us oldies

IN the pitch dark on the way to Sidmouth I came across a diversion in the road because of an accident.

Traffic had to drive through Beer to get onto the main road again.

Coming up the hill towards us, a bus was unable to pass. The car in front of me was stationary, diagonally across the road.

I got out and tried to help this elderly driver who had been there for 20 minutes, to negotiate back into a layby.

But all efforts to do this for him were aggressively refused.

He had people in front of him waiting for him to back up.

In the end the cars in front had to squeeze backwards past him to get out of the way.

I have come across this many times and, in my view, elderly though I am, I think there should be another test when you get to, say, 68 or so.

Dawn patrol in hunt of town's law-breakers

EDITOR — I would like to congratulate East Devon District Council.

At 5.45am on Monday, February 6th I was walking my dog close to Seaton town centre when a small van approached, slowed down and then drove off. I continued walking and a couple of minutes later the van came from behind slowed down and stopped. A mugging at this time, I wondered or just someone lost?

Out steps a friendly lady to enquire whether I had enough doggy bags. Of course I passed the test and she could see I was holding used doggy bags.

She told me she had checked the beach area and was due to make a tour of Harepath Road with a police officer.

My point is often made in this newspaper. It takes very little effort to pick up and deposit in a bin; better than a carpet! Lets all get more people-friendly.

Parking for free on the sea front

LITTLE publicity seems to have been given to the fact that in recent times free parking has been re-established on the eastern end of Seaton Esplanade and is now in force.

Quiet replacement of signage now allows for this until April 1st, recommencing on September 31st.

Most readers will be aware that parking meters were introduced last year under the guise of traffic management.

Living on the seafront, we have been amazed that vans carrying enforcement officers have been employed to patrol an empty seafront during the winter months, so it is good to see that at last sanity by the local authority prevails!

It would seem that these meters were installed prematurely as Seaton certainly does not have a traffic congestion problem, and congratulations should be proffered to those who brought this change about.

Time to swap unwanted stuff

AS RECYCLING champion for Honiton, my role on the town council is to support those ideas which prevent the creation of waste, reduce waste and encourage re-use of various items.

I am thrilled to be able to support Honiton resident Karen Berger, who has organised a Waste Not, Want Not event on Saturday, February 25th.

Simply bring your unwanted goods to the Mackarness Hall and for a £1 entrance fee (to cover the hall hire) you can drop off unwanted items and choose anything which takes your fancy.

Even those who don't have any goods to donate can choose items for themselves as the aim is to keep these things out of landfill sites.

Thank you to Karen for this brilliant idea and all her hard work making it happen.

Keep gulls out of the inland community

EDITOR — I refer to Kathy Hackman's letter of February 7th about seagulls.

She in turn was replying to Tony Jackson's January article in Country Scene advocating a sensible cull (my prior words) of gulls.

Yes, I understand if you live on the coast you should accept the gulls because it is their natural habitat and they have every right to be there.

My concern is that I have noticed in the past five years or more that these birds have increased in number in my town of Axminster, and possibly other towns too.

In Axminster they are now nesting on rooftops, coming into private gardens and generally becoming a nuisance as well as discouraging small garden birds.

I only have bird feeders now with nothing on the ground.

If only everyone would make sure there was nothing to encourage these scavengers into our towns perhaps they would get the message.

But of course that is too much to hope for.

Lions give funds to nine charities

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

NO fewer than nine charities have received cheques from Axminster and District Lions Club – and a tenth is in line for funds soon.

The club raised the money through what was described as “a bumper collection at Christmas”.

At a presentation evening at Ridgeway Country Hotel, amounts ranging from £50 to £500 were gratefully accepted by Flamingo Pool, Axminster Care Service, Axminster Alternative Job Club, Axminster Memory Café, ARC Bereavement Counselling Service, Rainbow's Nursery, Sam Nunn's Charity and Girl Guide young ambassador Natalie Jennings. Devon Freewheelers Dan Lavery and Kevin Lee made a late appearance to collect their organisation's £500 cheque on the way to an urgent call to take breast milk between hospitals in Exeter and Dorchester.

A further cheque for £500 will soon be presented to the Chestnut Appeal for Prostate Cancer, making a grand total of

Anne Hardman, of Axminster and District Lions Club, said: “All this was of course only possible through the huge generosity of the local community.

“A big thank-you to all who gave so willingly to help others.

“Axminster is indeed a very special place.”

Help offer for victims

DEVON and Cornwall police are reminding people this Valentine's day that help and advice are available to those suffering domestic abuse.

Detective Sergeant Chloe Webber said: “Valentine's Day can be extremely special for some people but unfortunately for others this is not always the case.

There are many factors at this time which affect relationships, such as high expectations, stress and financial pressure which may lead to a relationship becoming abusive.

Abuse in a relationship can be physical, emotional or financial and can affect anyone.”

Mary Fredlund from the domestic violence advocacy group Survivors Empowering and Educating Domestic Abuse Services (SEEDS) said: “A card and flowers on Valentine's Day may provide some temporary respite from abuse, but that doesn't mean the abuse will stop.

“For anyone in a violent relationship it is important to seek help now, rather than hope things will improve because of a seemingly caring gesture on Valentine's Day.”

Anyone experiencing domestic violence or abuse can contact the police by phoning 101, or 999 in an emergency.

Additional advice and support can be found at www.adva.org.uk or by calling Against Domestic Violence and Abuse (ADVA) on 01392 38 22 33.

Evidence is conclusive

DESPITE the fact that DNA evidence has proved conclusively that the half eaten roe deer, found in Gloucestershire and attributed to a “big cat”, has been shown to be the work of foxes, the evidence for the presence of these mysterious creatures is gathering momentum.

Last week a video was shown which provided conclusive evidence that large black panther-like cats are present in the UK. If you want to view it punch in Big cat video in UK on the internet.

Coryn Memory, 45, filmed the cat for 20 minutes at dusk near Stroud, Gloucestershire, as it moved around a large field close to a wood.

At one stage a fox appears in the foreground and it is at once evident that the cat is at least three times its size. Frank Tunbridge, an expert on big cats, has not the slightest doubt that the footage is conclusive proof of the existence of these animals.

There have been hundreds of reports of these leopard and puma look-alike cats, countrywide, though the hot spots seem to be Gloucestershire, Dorset and Devon. In many cases the animal has been compared to a black Labrador, but with a smaller head, long curved tail and typical feline movement.

There have been several books published on the subject and the latest, Big Cats* by Rick Minter, is calculated to convince even the most sceptical critic. There are numerous photographs of big cats, mostly black, taken in the wild in Britain, including a road accident victim six feet in length. Minter, an environmental consultant, erudite and level-headed, explains how and why these cats, which are breeding, have become established in Britain over the past 70 or so years.

Certainly, in our area there have been numerous reports of large black cats and also of sheep and deer kills, whilst I also know the owner of an alpaca herd who had two of these substantial animals killed by a cat last year.

If any readers have had any experiences with big cats I would be very pleased to hear from them.

Now, were you aware that today, February 14th, was not only St Valentine's Day, but also the start of National Nest Box Week and to mark the occasion, a special workshop called Love your birds is being held at the Healthy Living Centre in Hemmock. The idea is to allow families to learn how to build nest boxes and to attract and feed birds in their gardens.

So, if you'd like to know more, call the Blackdown Hills AONB team on 01823 680681. The cost is £5 for adults and £3 for under 18s.

One of my regular correspondents, Alison Tottenham, has sent me a long email, touching on various topics, and badgers in particular. She writes: “I thoroughly agree with your comments on the badger cull. At best it should be left to farmers and government personnel/Natural England staff should be kept completely out of it”. She makes the point that TB normally strikes when badgers are “run down” and highly stressed, perhaps by over-crowding. Farmers should be allowed free rein to cull some of the huge setts, writes Alison . . .” by which I do not mean kill all of them, but just a few across the age range, so gradually decreasing the breeding population to a size the locality can cope with”.

Why on earth, wonders Alison, do we not simply vaccinate cattle? In addition, the strain of TB in cattle and badgers cannot infect humans. Unfortunately, once government bureaucrats and pseudo-scientists become involved in issues affecting wildlife, farming and the countryside the end result is invariably cack-handed and impractical!

Hunt is on for region's teen boffins

YOUNG engineers, scientists, mathematicians and entrepreneurs in Devon are being encouraged to enter Big Bang South West at the University of Exeter on June 28th.

As the regional branch of the nationally prestigious National Science and Engineering Competition (NSEC), Big Bang South West welcomes projects from all areas of science, technology, engineering and maths (STEM).

These projects could be a piece of original research, an original invention, a design for a new item or an improvement on an old one.

For Devon entries there is also the possibility of winning a "business angel" bursary and business-mentoring to help bring them to the market if a project is deemed to have commercial potential.

To enter you must be aged 11 to 18 and be in secondary education.

For more information about the competition visit www.thebigbangfair.co.uk/southwest.

History of local caves

NATIONAL Trust Axe Valley Centre's annual meeting tomorrow (Wednesday, February 15th) will be followed by an illustrated talk by John Scott called the History of Beer Caves.

The meeting starts at 2.30pm in Colyford Memorial Hall. For further information, call 01460 220266.

New toys for kids

◆ CHILDREN at Offwell Under Fives' Pre-School are enjoying new toys after a successful fundraising campaign. Pre-school leader Kay George said: "Thanks to the hard work and generous support of our committee and parents, we raised £450 through a Christmas concert and raffle and earned commission through a pre-school photography session." The new range of kit includes a space set, a balance bike, magnifying glasses, tweezers, wooden puzzles and more. Kay said: "The staff and committee would like to thank all our parents and carers for their continuing support"

Burns Night 10 days late

EAST Devon Short Mat Bowls League celebrated Burns Night a little later than usual, on Saturday, February 4th, at Offwell Village Hall.

Organised by David Hayler, the event saw around 80 people turn out for Norman McCorkindale's address to the haggis.

A piper set the tone of the evening before the Amycrofters Band led the audience in singing Lock Lomond and If it wasnae for your Wellies.

The evening also involved a meal, a raffle and a ceilidh called by Simon Maplesdon that culminated in a rendition of Auld Lang Syne.

The Mayor of Honiton, Vernon Whitlock, was also in attendance.

More details about the Short Mat Bowls Club or the Amycrofters Folk Dance Band can be found at www.amycrofters.co.uk or by calling 01404 46451.

Two injured in A35 crash

TWO people were taken to hospital after a car overturned on the A35 near Offwell on Monday, February 6th.

The single-car accident happened just before 1.45pm. There were two people in the car – a man and a woman. The man was trapped and had to be cut free by firefighters.

A police spokesman said: "Neither occupant was seriously injured but they were taken to the RD&E Hospital in Exeter by air and land ambulance."

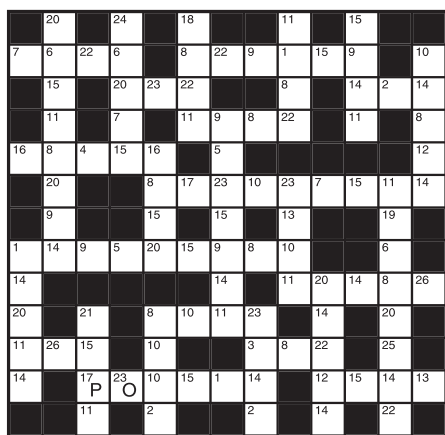

A stretch of road remained closed at 3pm and the spokesman said there were long tailbacks.

Three ways to protect plants from the cold

1. Knock snow off the branches of shrubs to stop them snapping and do the same with hedging, which may buckle under the weight of snow.
2. Make sure bubble wrap or hessian is tied securely around pots containing less hardy plants and place them nearer to the house or under cover.
3. Refirm any young plants lifted by frost and pay attention to recent additions such as trees and shrubs planted in the autumn which may not yet have grown out from their rootball.

Helleborus; hardy and attractive and work well with spring blooms

Hellebores are valued for their attractive winter flowers in shades of white and pink, through to red, purple and black, each with attractive markings.

They can grow under trees, shrubs or beside walls if the ground is not too dry and look lovely interplanted with spring-flowering bulbs or hardy cyclamen, or teamed with epimediums, hardy geraniums or pulmonarias in a border. They prefer lime or chalk but are tolerant of a range of soils, although they won't survive in waterlogged conditions, and are happy in sun or shade. Lenten hellebores (H. orientalis) are good evergreen perennials for late winter to early spring interest, with large, cup-shaped flowers in shades of white, cream, pinkish red and deep purple. Try the 'Ashwood Garden Hybrids' for their range of colour. Other hellebores worth considering include H. argutifolius, a tough plant reaching 90cm x 90cm (3ft) or more, which does best in full sun and well drained soil, producing greenish flowers from January to March. The British native stinking hellebore (H. foetidus) has pale green flowers and thrives in moist soil and partial shade and is a cheery sight on dark days.

What to do this week

- Pot autumn-rooted fuchsia cuttings into small, individual pots.
- Continue to harvest Brussels sprouts, Jerusalem artichokes, leeks, parsnips, celeriac and winter cabbage.
- Order summer-flowering bulbs, particularly if you are planning to grow any that need starting off indoors, such as tuberous begonias.
- Sow quick-growing perennials such as campanulas and poppies to flower this year.
- Keep off the grass in frosty weather.
- Examine stored dahlia tubers for any signs of rot and remove any which are affected.
- To perk up a winter display, replace badly damaged plants with pots of dwarf, early-flowering bulbs such as scillas and narcissi.
- In sheltered areas, prune tender climbers and wall shrubs that are already showing signs of strong growth, to further encourage growth.
- Complete winter pruning of wisteria if this wasn't done in November.
- Cut back self-clinging climbers such as ivies and Virginia creeper, to keep them within bounds.
- Cut back the dead stems of ornamental grasses to ground level.
- Divide overcrowded clumps of snowdrops to increase your stock, splitting them and replanting single bulbs a few centimetres apart.
- Keep weeding, if weather permits, to ensure perennial weeds don't take hold before spring.

Can true love win the day in village pantomime story?

KILMINGTON Players take to the stage tomorrow with this year's pantomime offering, Little Tommy Tucker, written by Paul Reakes.

The X Factor and Britain's Got Talent have got nothing on Dame Ditty and her successful singing school, much to the annoyance of Dr Discord who runs a rival establishment.

When the duke and his daughter arrive in town the rivalry is brought out into the open when a singing contest is to be staged at the local fair.

Knowing that Dame Ditty has only female students, Dr Discord arranges for the contest to be male only.

Fortunately, at the same time Tommy Tucker arrives in town, charming the duke's daughter Sophie and singing beautifully with her.

Tommy continues to sing as he ponders true love and is overheard by Dame Ditty who manages to recruit him to sing for her.

Upon hearing this Dr Discord sets about hatching his evil plan employing the services of a local witch.

In true pantomime style we follow the twists and turns of this story. Can Dame Ditty win the singing contest? And will true love win the day?

Performances are from Wednesday, February 15th to Saturday, February 18th in Kilmington Village Hall starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets are available from Hurford's Stores. Adults £6, children £3.

Barn-storming rock and roll

THE renowned Steve Gibbons Band (SGB) will play at The Barn in the Square and Compass Inn in Ilminster on Saturday, February 18th.

Starting from 9pm, the SGB will perform their blend of hard-driving, country flavoured rock and roll.

Steve Gibbons, who has been making music since the 1960s, is considered by some as one of Britain's finest singer-songwriters.

His song, One of the Boys, was later covered by The Who's Roger Daltrey as the title track on his solo album.

Steve has also played alongside members of ELO, Fairport Convention and Jethro Tull.

Throughout the 1980s, 1990s and the noughties the SGB has continued touring the world, sharing the stage with the likes of The Who, Lynyrd Skynyrd and J Geils.

Tickets, costing £12 in advance, £14 on the night, are available from the Square and Compass Inn, Ilminster, Black Cat Records, Taunton, and Acorn Records, Yeovil, or by calling 01823 480467. Doors open at 8pm.

OUT & ABOUT

● POPULAR music venue The Barn at the Square and Compass Inn, Ilminster, will host boogie king Ben Waters on Saturday, February 25th.

This is one of only a few selected dates between a Caribbean tour and a tour of Asia and the only date in Somerset with drummer Adie and bassist Richard.

Tickets, costing £10, can be booked by calling 01823 480467. Doors open at 8pm for a 9pm start.

● IE Theatre Comedy Players have announced a season of comedy plays for 2012 that will start this month and take place every month until and including September.

The first play, The Letter, features Eileen Stuart and Caroline Markham. It will run from February 15th to February 17th. All the plays will be staged at The Dolphin Hotel, Beer, and start at 7.45pm. Tickets are available from Archway Bookshop, Axminster, or by calling 01297 33595.

● Gary Fletcher from The Blues Band will play a candlelit acoustic session at The Barn in Square and Compass Inn, Ilminster, on Wednesday, February 22nd. Gary is best known as the bassist in The Blues Band and wrote the bands anthemic song Green Stuff.

Although left-handed, Gary still plays a guitar strung for right-handed use as this was how he learned on his sister's old acoustic, essentially playing the instrument upside down.

Admission is £8 and to book in advance call 01823 480467. Doors open at 8pm and the music starts at 9pm. For more information about Gary Fletcher go to www.garyfletchermusic.co.uk.

● Colyford Memorial Hall will be the venue of a jumble sale at 2pm on Saturday, February 25th.

If you have any jumble for collection (clothing, books, bric-a-brac etc) then phone 01297 551375.

All proceeds are for memorial hall funds.

And Kermit came too

THE MUPPETS (U)

FOR more than 35 years, Kermit the Frog, Miss Piggy and their fun-loving friends have been firmly engrained in our rose-tinted childhood memories with their slapstick routines and song-and-dance numbers.

The popularity of Jim Henson's creations has never waned, thanks to endless repeats of the award-winning TV series The Muppet Show, which ended in 1981, and subsequent film adventures including madcap re-imaginings of A Christmas Carol, Treasure Island and The Wizard Of Oz.

Director James Bobin expertly taps into that nostalgia with The Muppets, a glorious throwback to the days of yore that sees the colourful critters facing an uncertain future in a world of technological advances and fleeting celebrities.

The script, co-written by leading man Jason Segel and Nicholas Stoller, strikes the perfect balance between affection and irreverence, knowingly tipping the wink to leaps in plot logic.

So when one character reveals that the only way to save the iconic Muppet Theatre from demolition is to raise 10 million dollars in two weeks, Waldorf turns to the camera and quips: "If I didn't know better, I'd say you were reciting an important plot point..."

The film opens in Smalltown, population 102, where a muppet called Walter (voiced by Peter Linz) lives with his human brother Gary (Segel), who is about to celebrate 10 years with his girlfriend Mary (Amy Adams).

The trio visit Los Angeles, where Walter discovers that scheming oilman Tex Richman (Chris Cooper) plans to bulldoze the Muppet Theatre and drill for the black gold beneath.

The only way to thwart Richman is to rally the troops. So Walter galvanises Kermit (Steve Whitmire), Miss Piggy (Eric Jacobson), Fozzie Bear (Jacobson again), Gonzo (Dave Goelz) and the gang into organising a televised appeal in the company of celebrity guests including Whoopi Goldberg.

The Muppets is a perfect family film with broad humour to appeal to all ages, interspersed with delightful ditties written by Bret McKenzie from Flight Of The Conchords, including the exuberant Life's A Happy Song that features the lyric "Life is full of glee/With someone to saw/And someone to see".

A delightful new Toy Story short called Small Fry, in which Buzz Lightyear is locked inside a fast-food restaurant and joins a support group for discarded meal toys, plays before the main feature.

It's the icing on an already delicious cake.

Introducing the 'white' Japanese car — available in a large range of colours

THE Juke is now available in a new range-topping model called Shiro, the Japanese word for white.

Based on the existing Tekna model but with white detailing around the car, all the interior leather trim has white stitching.

The motorcycle-inspired lower centre console, where the gearstick is mounted, is white as well.

Despite the name, the Shiro can be ordered in any of the Juke's current hues, but there is an additional colour unique to the Shiro called nightshade, a dark aubergine.

Other exterior distinctions include dark grey 17-inch alloy wheels, satin finishes on the door handles and body caps, and a gloss black finish on the B-pillar.

Three engines are available, from a 1.5-litre diesel and a 1.6-litre petrol to the range-topping turbocharged 1.6 petrol with 187bhp.

Prices start from £17,695 for the new Shiro, which replaces another special edition, Kuro – Japanese for black. Deliveries will start from March 1st, with all Jukes being made at Nissan's Sunderland plant.

■ Following the introduction of the first turbocharged M models in the sub-brand's 30-year history, BMW has taken another bold step by creating four new M models that will have a high-tech diesel engine under the bonnet.

The new 3.0-litre diesel powerplant has three turbochargers – two small and one large to deliver both quick response and high boost levels, increasing efficiency and maximising output.

All models featuring the new engine will be four-wheel-drive to cope with the huge torque available.

M Performance models of the 5-Series saloon and Touring as well as the X5 and X6 SUVs will appear and deliver impressive figures.

The M550d xDrive has 375bhp and a massive 546lb.ft of torque, enough to power it to a limited top speed of 155mph and from 0-62mph in 4.7 seconds, just 0.3 of a second slower than the petrol powered M5.

Despite the athletic performance, the M550d is quoted with an official combined consumption figure of 44.8mpg and a CO2 figure of only 165g/km. Both the saloon and Touring versions also meet EU6 exhaust regulations.

The M Performance X5 and X6 are equally impressive, with both versions managing to sprint to 62mph from rest in 5.5 seconds or less while also being capable of over 35mpg.

No prices have yet been confirmed but the M Performance models will make their public debut at the Geneva Motor Show in March, with sales to follow in the summer.

■ Prices and specifications have been announced for Subaru's new XV SUV model, with prices starting from £21,295 and going up to £29,995.

Designed as a stylish SUV with more consideration given to off-road ability than in many of its completely road-biased rivals, the XV will have particular appeal to people who often need to drive on rutted tracks or farm land.

It also stakes a fine claim as a family car, with a five-star Euro NCAP rating and particularly high scores for child protection.

Permanent four-wheel-drive is standard on all XV models, with the range including entry-level S, SE and range-topping SE Lux Premium trim levels.

S models will have climate control, traction control, front fog lamps, front, side, curtain and knee airbags, 17-inch alloy wheels and daytime running lights.

AXE CLIFF GOLF

A SEVERE overnight frost made conditions tricky, particularly for the early senior starters, in the February Stableford.

Thirty-seven members took part and it was no wonder that the three leading scores came from those who played in the final groups.

The winner way out on his own was Neil Moorcraft (21) with an amazing 39 points. In second place, four behind with 35 points, was Roger Hill (18) with Iain Bain (13) third with 34 points. As putting was not easy on the rock hard greens, it was no surprise that there were no 2s.

The main club played for the February Medal in pleasant conditions resulting in some good scores.

First division winner was Richard Gibbons (8) with a net 65. In second place was Craig Trevett (10) with a nett 67 and in third Stuart Mackie (8) with a net 68.

Second division winner was Matt Donnon (24) with a nett 65 and in second place on the back nine Mike Davis (20) with a net 66 beating David Morgan (19) also with a net 66.

Wednesday morning Ladies Day was freezing so instead of the scheduled winter league, captain Barbara Cummings decided on a shortened Stableford with the winner taking the kitty.

LYME REGIS GOLF

57 brave the elements

WITH a slight improvement in temperature but with the ground still frozen underfoot, 57 stalwart members of the senior section took to the course on February 6th to contest the monthly stableford competition.

The frozen ground having necessitated temporary greens on all of the holes and with a buggy ban in force, some of the regular participants were absent from the field.

However, apart from the early onset of a short-lived spell of drizzle, the weather was mild and it made it pleasant to be out.

Although the temporary greens made approach shots and putting a bit of a lottery, some very creditable scores were carded.

Division one was won on countback by David Binns (14) with Frank Martin (12) both with 38 points.

In third place close behind was Barry Goswell (16) with 37 points. In division two it was pleasing to see Keith Glover (27) showing the benefit of his recent lesson from the club professional staff with a 38 points winning score.

In second place on countback with 36 points was Alan Woodbridge (20) followed by D McCallum in third place.

Winter League Round 2

On January 29th the second round of the winter league saw the winning pair of Jonny Ebdon and Richard Lawrence scoring a magnificent 44 points.

Coming a very close second was the steady pairing of Jim Matthews and Pete Northcott with 43 points and in third place were Tom Glover, and

Matt Coburn with 42 points. The table to dates stands as follows:

1. J Ebdon and R Lawrence, 84; 2. T Glover and M Coburn, 81; 3. J Matthews and P Northcott, 79

Monthly medal

With frozen ground necessitating the use of 18 temporary greens many of the regular participants were not present to contest the monthly medal on February 5th. First with a net 68 was P Bevis (6), second with a net 69 M Lewis (11) and third with net 70 David Binns (14).

HONITON GOLF

THE stableford turnout was a dramatically low affair with names being crossed out as late as the morning of the event.

Admittedly it was cold and members woke secretly hoping the course would be closed. However, the game was played and you can see from the results the calibre of player that forced their way into the rankings. First, and probably playing in shirt sleeves, was Paul Blackmore with 40pts. Second on countback with 39 was Steve Charlton, ahead of a despairing Sid Martin in third. Poor Dave Morgan's 39 only got him fourth.

Tuesday Mixed

The format was a team stableford with two scores on each hole to count. The winning team were new lady captain Jackie and Allan Seager, Maureen McIlveen and Andy Sharland, with 80pts. Following closely were Linda and John Northover and Christine Whitley and Robert Hendrix with 79pts.

Ladies Section

Thirty-two ladies braved Arctic conditions for a 10-hole rye foursomes, and when the icicles melted it was Henrietta Bradshaw and Chris Pearce in first place with a great score of 22 points.

HONITON NETBALL

AFTER a week of lost fixtures because of the weather, netball fixtures resumed at Honiton.

Division One

Uplowman 34 Bo-Peeps 29; OPG 27 Wasps 43.

With Flamingos not playing OPG had a chance to clinch second place, but it was not to be as Wasps beat OPG for the second time this season to leave the second place in the division wide open and dependent upon the last game for each side.

OPG had started stronger taking the first quarter by 8-6, but with Jacqui Rice shooting well for Wasps, they had much the better of the second and third periods so that going into the final session they had a 33-20 lead.

With Helen Wright doing well for OPG, the final quarter was closer but Wasps clinched the victory with a 43-27 win.

The other game was a close-run affair between Uplowman and Bo-Peeps.

This was their third meeting and in the previous two encounters the honours had been shared. This time it was Uplowman who led from the start with Andrea Britten playing well.

By halfway the Peeps were 13-18 down and although Poppy Williams worked hard for Bo-Peeps it was Uplowman who took the points with a 34-29 win.

Sadly, money doesn't grow on trees...

WOMEN'S FOOTBALL

◆ HOW Seaton Town FC Ladies line up this season

Simon says it with style

ON Sunday, February 5th three Honiton runners set off to Sherborne for the Blackmore Vale Half Marathon with an honorary member, Simon Earl, in tow.
They all awoke expecting ice but it turned out to be a clear and sunny morning.
The race starts off downhill but this lulls the runners into false hope as the next 12 miles are hilly with the last mile uphill to the finish.
First to finish was Graham Reeves

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

with a personal best time for the distance in 102nd place in 1.35.33.
Nick Bradley-Carter was happy to get under the 1.50 mark in a great time of 1.49.18 in 268th place.
Simon is in training for the Grizzly and this was his first ever half-marathon which he finished in a stunning time of 1.51.23 in 295th place. To finish for the team was

Olivia Higginson who two years ago said never again will she run this race as all she remembered were all the hills and not the flattish few miles in the middle.
She was extremely happy to gain a personal best of 1.53.47. Olivia was 322nd out of 517 runners.
The winner was Stephen Way from Bournemouth AC in 1.10.33.
Everyone enjoyed a sandwich and cake before heading back to Devon.
Graham Reeves was out again last Sunday, chasing another half marathon personal best.

He took part in the Exeter Half which is a three-lap, traffic-free course on the footpaths and cycle ways beside the Exe and Exeter Canal.
He was delighted to manage his personal best, coming 47th in 1.33:04.
The winner was Martyn Bean of Brighton and Hove AC in a time of 1.15:09 and there were 268 finishers.

Musbury are back in the top division

MUSBURY'S evening team return to division one after just one season.

Their 7-1 home win took them out of reach at the top to all except Seaton Cliff who kept in touch with their 5-3 win, also at home.
Musbury's afternoon team maintained their chances of repeating their evening team colleagues' success with their 5-3 away win leaving them in second place with two games in hand; behind them are the other winners this week, Combe St Nicholas, their margin 6-2 at home.
The other winners this week,
Hemyock B, also 6-2 at home.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

London hopefuls use city race for training

MAY WOOD was the victor in February's Junior handicap in 16.18, followed by Ed Polley, 16.36, and Caitlin Bee, 17.01.

The first three all beat their personal bests.

Mollie Hansford was fourth in 14.55 and Josh Coates fifth in 11.45.

Unfortunately, the timing went slightly awry in the senior handicap which had over 50 runners pelting around Seaton.

Beth Sibley was the winner, an incredible achievement as she has won it twice recently. Myrtle Croad was second, Jacqui Stokes third, Rhea Lawrence fourth and Chris Driver fifth.

A new half-marathon has been run in Exeter. This was a three-lap course around the canal basin which may seem a tad boring to some, but the dead flat course had its up side by letting spectators watch the lead runners at various places en route.

Brighton & Hove's Martyn Bean was the winner in 1.15:09. Being dead flat meant this was used as a training run for many a London Marathoner and Luke Reed was no exception. He had a terrific run finishing 17th out of 268 in 1.24:26.

Sharon Rooke is also a London Marathoner and she ran it with her chum Adele Foxwell finishing joint 151st in 1.47:44.

Pete Hughes harboured delusions of being able to keep up with the girls and after a brief chase there he was running with them – until halfway around when things started to get a bit creaky.

He persevered and was frantically looking around to see if Dave Mutter was gaining on him. No chance of that and Pete finished 165th in 1.50:46, looking a very white shade of pale until he was force-fed raisins by the ladies.

Dave Mutter was like a conked-out old diesel tractor at the start as he puffed and wheezed in the cold trying to get going.

This lasted for two laps when suddenly the engine burst into full power and Dave was off – unfortunately far too late to catch Pete, but he hauled in a few as he finished 178th in 1.54:21. This was a great event for marathon training, but didn't bear much resemblance to the Grizzly course.

SOUTH WEST
PENINSULA
LEAGUECruel blow to the TigersDivision One East
Stoke Gabriel 4
Axminster Town 3

AXMINSTER were denied a shock victory as the home side scored twice in the closing stages of this exciting clash.

That was a cruel blow to the Tigers, who had again showed enormous character and considerable skill to belie their struggle at the foot of the table. Just after the hour mark Axminster took a 3-2 lead when Jamie Chamberlain broke clear of the Stoke defence and calmly slotted the ball home.

It was a fitting reward for Chamberlain as he had set up Axminster's early equaliser when his shot hit the post and Adam Cowling was presented an easy tap-in.

Likewise Chamberlain set up a second Tigers' equaliser just before the hour with Cowling again finishing off the move.

Even when the hosts made it 3-3 with five minutes remaining it seemed as if the Tigers would return home with a point but they were then hit by a cruel late goal when in the 89th minute goalkeeper Chris Higgs was penalised for bringing down Clay Bond and the striker dusted himself down to slot home the winning penalty.

Seaton grab seven to stay six points clear

IN-FORM Cameron Vere struck four times as Seaton Town kept up the pressure at the top of the Premier Division.

With Bed Ede adding two and Josh French one, Seaton swept aside Morchard Bishop 7-3 and gave their goal difference a handy boost to maintain their six-point advantage over St Martins, who also won on Saturday.

"On that form Cameron was unplayable. He is just so strong and powerful," said Seaton boss Josh Stunell.

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

"It was great to see all three of my strikers score but it was a day when everyone was on form.

"It was a terrific performance."

Beer Albion bounced back from defeat to the league leaders last week with a 4-2 victory over East Budleigh. Goals came from Adam Wakely, John Cooper, Chris Long and James Melville.

In Division Two Colyton fought back from trailing 2-0 and 3-1 to earn a point in an exciting 3-3 draw at home to Clyst Valley Reserves, who were strengthened by a couple of first-teamers after their match was called off.

Ian Gooding gave Coly a lifeline on the stroke of half-time when he finished off good work by Maddocks. But in pushing for the equaliser after the break the home side were caught on the break and again fell two goals behind.

Within two minutes Wayne Waddon made it 3-2 with a great header from George Moore's pin-point kick.

"This galvanised the team and they bombarded their opponents' goal, forcing the keeper into several great saves," said Colyton manager Keith Somers.

They finally got their reward in the 85th minute when Clyst had a defender sent off for a foul on Gooding in the box. The resulting penalty was coolly slotted home by Cal Somers.

"A special mention for the man in the middle, Steve Banks," added Somers.

"We are all quick to criticise our officials but he was excellent throughout."

Colyton's man-of-the-match award, sponsored by the Colcombe Castle Inn, was given to Ian Gooding who tormented the away side from start to finish.

Also in Division Two Honiton appeared to be heading for victory after Tim Genders scored twice but they eventually slipped to a 3-2 defeat against the University.

In Division Five Axmouth United thumped Dunkswell Rovers 6-2, their second six-goal tally in quick succession after trouncing Cullompton 6-1 last month.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

Millwey book place in the semis

MILLWEY Rise booked their place in the semi-finals of the Arthur Gage Cup against Forton Rangers after a thrilling penalty shoot-out against Barrington.

Nathan Womersley, Michael Knight and player-manager Shane Featherstone were the spotkick marksmen and goalkeeper Steve O'Brien was the hero with three outstanding saves.

"Steve definitely redeemed himself in the penalty shoot-out after he had made a mistake for their equaliser," said Featherstone.

"He is a very good young goalkeeper and got a hand on all of their penalties."

Despite missing ace strikers Sam Dibbling and Terry Emmett, Millwey started brightly and ended the first half 1-0 ahead, thanks to Leo Maguire.

A defensive error gave Barrington the equaliser and while Featherstone restored the lead, Barrington forced their way back into the match again after O'Brien gave away an indirect free kick in the penalty area.

"We were camped in their half in extra time but to be fair to Barrington they defended really well," said Featherstone. "Fortunately the lads held their nerve with the penalties."

The win was also the perfect send-off for Saturday's east final of the Devon Intermediate Cup final at Feniton.

Forton eased their way into the semi-finals to be played on March 17th with a 3-0 win over Lyme Regis Reserves, thanks to goals from Dave Hurley, Robbie Walker and John Smith.

The other semi-final will be between Misterton and either Shepton Beauchamp or Ilminster Colts, who are due to meet on March 10th.

In the Jack Venn Cup Dowlish & Donyatt thumped Crewkerne

Rangers 7-1 with a hat-trick from midfielder Chris Butler, two from Ben Charlton and further strikes from Andy North and Gavin Babb.

"In the first half they had a couple of half-chances but once we got going it was one-way traffic and I am very happy with that performance," said Dowlish boss Stuart Lee.

In the same competition Pymore needed extra time before finally beating Charmouth 5-3 with goals from Tim Hussey (hat-trick), Brandon Scadding and James Pitcher.

The frosty conditions again caused havoc with the league programme and one of the few games to survive was in Division Two where leaders South Petherton Reserves thumped Chard Rangers 6-1.

Adam Smith grabbed a hat-trick, Mark Padfield claimed two and Jake Russell completed the scoring.

In the Premier Division Lyme Regis extended their lead to 10 points after a 2-0 win against Winsham United, thanks to a Jason Hawker double.

In Division Four Ilminster Town A strengthened their grip at the top after an 8-3 win against Uplyme Reserves with Kevin Crouch grabbing a hat-trick.

Reserves take cup and league in their stride

Jack Venn Cup
Crewkerne Reserves 4 Uplyme 1

CREWKERNE Reserves got their Jack Venn Cup campaign off to a winning start with an emphatic victory.

With the Tommy Tabberer Cup quarter final against South Petherton Reserves coming up this weekend and the race for the Division Two title still very much alive, Crewkerne boss Ben Cox is looking forward to an exciting end to the season.

"The ultimate goal is to try to win the league title," said Cox.

"We are third at the moment but have games in hand and still have to play South Petherton Reserves (the current leaders) twice so it is in our own hands.

"But everything is going well and we have big games every week now."

Uplyme battled hard but couldn't match Crewkerne's quality on the day as goals from Richard Crabb and an Aaron Hodges' penalty, following a foul on Crabb, gave them a 2-0 lead at half-time.

Further strikes from Adam Swinnerton and David John wrapped up the win before Uplyme grabbed a late consolation goal.

"It was a really good performance from the team," added Cox.

"We had a dodgy spell just before Christmas but we have really hit form in the last couple of games.

"Central defender Pete Symes joining us from Merriott Rovers has brought quite a bit to the team as he is so experienced and he has pulled everyone together at the back and got them talking.

"He played for Crewkerne in the past and we are delighted that he has re-joined us. He fits in so well."

Important news for householders!

We must reduce landfill waste to a minimum

It's bad for the environment, expensive to process and makes councils liable to pay unwanted fines. Householders in East Devon have been fantastic at helping us to reduce landfill by 30% and raising the recycling rate to over 48%.

How can residents help us improve things?

The more of your waste you put into your recycling containers the better. We need to keep the amount of waste that ends up in the grey landfill bin to a minimum. That's why from 6 February we will no longer collect bags of side waste left out by householders in East Devon and we won't empty over-filled bins.

Please recycle everything you can!

This year, we want to improve even more. So please make sure you recycle every item you can and put as little as possible into the landfill bin. That way you can shut the lid and there will be no side waste. Any bags put out will be left, with a sticker explaining why we no longer collect them.

Let's recycle more in 2012!
